IN THE SECOND DISTRICT.

Forming the New Grand Jury— General Notes.

BEAVER, March 6, 1886.

Correspondence of THE HERALD.

The March term of the Second District Court convened here last Monday. The first thing to be done was the empanelling of a grand jury. This, however, proved to be no easy matter, inasmuch as the ideas of young W. S. Zane, and his criminal master, Boreman, were of such a radical character that the old paraphrase, "No Irish need apply!" was for the once transmogrified into "No Mormon need apply," for in other words, the questioning was of such a character that not even an avowedly unprejudiced non-Mormon was permitted to retain a name among the grand inquirers; he must be an uncompromising enemy to everything that might be construed as even remotely favorable to the Mormons or else be inconspicuously rejected. In fact, the query seemed very pertinent as to the need of a new Edmunds law to further oppress and deprive the Mormon people of their legal rights, when a pseudo "court of justice" so barefacedly ignored every principle of right and constitutional toleration in the selection of its jurors. Three days were spent in rustling up "suitable" material for the body in question, and finally on the fourth day the fifteen individuals named below took their oath as grand jurors, and patiently listened to the harangue of his honor in relation to rights that those bearing the name of Mormons must not possess.

Following is the list, everyone of whom it is almost needless to say is an "odd number," or in other words, an uncompromising anti-Mormon: Richard Turpin, W. T. Smith, David H. Thompson, Thos. T. Willis, A. W. Maxwell, Samuel Bennetts, George Dockstader, John Lee, Jr., W. J. Kennedy, James Earles, Benjamin Reed, Francis Dege, James Skaggs, Edward Bird and Henry Rounsevelt. W. P. Smith, who by the way, is an attaché of the court, a United States Commissioner, was appointed foreman, and the organization was complete. This appointment to the foremanship might have been practically much worse, but it is certainly curious in principle.

If U. S. Commissioner Smith can be the foreman of a grand jury in Beaver, then you Salt Lakeers can very reasonably look forward to the promotion of your old "standby" Commissioner McKee to a like position in the Third District, and more than that, under the actual mode of procedure adopted here, his continued retention thereon term after term.

It is almost useless to say Judge Boreman strove hard to excel himself, and he certainly did excel all of his previous efforts as a "charger," when he charged this last juristical body, while he certainly did strike some rather salient points in regard to men in polygamy, once in a while neglecting to live up to their professions, in abiding what the Judge was pleased to term, "an alleged revelation from God;" in that now the Edmunds bill was being enforced, they attempted, or rather asserted, they were obeying the law of the land by abandoning "almost invariably" the first wife, instead of living with and acknowledging all plural wives. He on the other hand indulged in some of the most vindictive, wild and unfounded assertions in regard to the alleged immorality of the Mormon people as a whole, that a humane being, let alone a professed Christian judge, ever degraded himself to utter, and were he as reflective and conscientious as he ought to be, he would certainly hide his head in abject shame to think of the manner in which he maligned a people, a more moral than which (cannot be found within the limits of Christendom, and he is challenged to the proof.

However, the inquisitors are at work, and the judge is studiously nursing a boil or carbuncle which has appeared on his neck. By the way, maybe this eruption of nature may account somewhat for his extreme malignant asperity in charging the grand jury, who knows? Many witnesses are present from the further north and it is fair to presume that many if not most of them, represent "unlawful cohab." cases.

Times are otherwise extremely quiet in this southern region. Old Boreman has been giving us a rough deal during the past eight or ten days; intense frosts, following by a considerable fall of snow, having made external things rather uncomfortable during that period; and one would certainly judge from present appearances that we would yet have quite a "spell" of winter.

Respectfully,

S.

FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY.

Hints and Happenings in Brigham City.

Correspondence of THE HERALD:

March was fully inaugurated by cold and blistering winds and fitful storms of snow and rain. Sparrows in this vicinity are very numerous. They appear to have multiplied very fast since their introduction here, a few years ago. At early morn they may be seen frequently in large flocks in the hedge rows, and upon the housetops, and their continuous chirp, chirp, chirp, amounts to almost a din. The voice of the sparrow may not be sweet in tone, but it (to me) has a familiar sound, and carries me back on memory's wings to boyhood's days when the sparrows would come regularly and pick up the crumbs that lay around our cottage doors. The sparrow may not be considered a pretty bird, but in the old countries it is often made a pet of. But since its introduction into this country, it has commenced to claim the liberty of the good American eagle till it has now come to be looked upon as a nuisance, and this modest ornithological specimen often falls a mercurial prey to the skillful manipulator of the shot gun. The sparrow should be respected for his antiquity if nothing more as we can read of them being in existence some nineteen centuries ago, and our savior intimated that two sparrows were worth a farthing. Well, in our day and generation, city and country, we have an immense number of sparrows, but I presume that a whole flock of them would not fetch more than two farthings in the market. No, we are fond of birds, but we would prefer to have chickens. So much for the mischievous sparrows. Now we come to the garden raiders, but we have swarmed with chickens, but we have not have enough. We must have more and have them hatched out faster. For this purpose Mr. N. Didrickson of this city has contracted an incubator, that will hold between two and three hundred eggs, and is now at work endeavoring to fill an order for very early spring chickens.

Dr. Carrington, of this city, has a colt that would be quite an acquisition to a circus.

Our produce dealers are preparing for an extensive spring trade.

Our shoe makers are unusually busy at last.

Mr. Fred G. Nielsen, our furniture man, is a member of the Brigham City Debating Club, and is an expert on motions. He is about to move an adjournment of his establishment to their new premises, one block farther north.

Messrs. Booth & Pierce are giving prizes to purchasers of certain kind of merchandise. Such as tea, baking powders, tobacco, etc.; every purchaser of these articles receives a ticket and a certain number of these tickets are exchanged for a prize.

Dr. F. E. Roche, of Oakland, Cal., also Mr. Guthrie's representative and A. Toponce, Esq., of Currie, were in Brigham on Wednesday on business.

It is reported that Colonel C. C. Loveland (father of our County Sheriff C. C. Loveland) died last night at Col. Fort. Colonel Loveland was an old and respected resident of this city and ex-mayor. A few years ago he returned to Call's Fort. A short time ago he was taken down with erysipelas which turned into blood poisoning and caused his death.

BRIGHAM CITY, March 7, 1886. J. B.

Fighting Convicts.

LOUISVILLE, March 9.—A company of soldiers guarding the convict camp at Greenwood Mines, in Pulaski County, Kentucky, had a lively time of it last night. Free miners occupied the adjacent hills, and kept up a hot fire shooting all night. No shots were fired into the camp, but the convicts were badly frightened, and the soldiers with drawn guns kept guard until morning, when the miners disappeared.

Another Street Car Strike.

TRON, N. Y., March 9.—On street car lines between Troy, Lansingburgh, Cohoes and Waterford, no cars started this morning. Conductors and drivers to the number of 300 were ordered on a strike by the Knights of Labor, because the company refused to make a new schedule of wages for extra men or "trippers."

Senator Miller's Successor.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—Governor Stoneman, who has the power of appointing a successor to the late Senator J. F. Miller, in the United States Senate, is at his ranch at San Gabriel, and could not be communicated with to-day regarding the matter.

THE PUGET SOUND PIPE CO.

OLYMPIA, W. T.

Sole Proprietors and Exclusive Manufacturers of Horton's Water Pipe and Couplings.

These pipes are suitable for either water, oil or gas and are made to sustain a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch, or a gravity head of over 600 feet. Water can be brought from any elevation in them without leakage or waste. The tube is made of the best Puget Sound pine which, being thoroughly seasoned, is spirally bound with strong iron bands of suitable strength for any required pressure. The whole exterior is then given a coat of asphaltum, which protects the iron from rust and the wood from insects or decay. The pipe is made in 8 feet lengths and spirally banded and connected with iron couplings. We manufacture this pipe in all sizes from 2 to 12 inches. The action of the water makes it perfectly water tight in a few hours. In point of durability this pipe exceeds all others. The asphaltum coating affords a thorough and almost everlasting protection to the iron banding against rust, while the wood being constantly saturated with water, will last for generations. It can be laid for from 1 to 4 cents per foot, according to sizes. It is from 1/4 to 1/2 the cost of iron and is equal in all respects to the very best standard iron pipe now in use. It will never corrode or give the water a bad taste, as is the case with iron; is less liable to freeze, and can be sent to distant points at 1/4 the cost. City or town corporations, or any others contemplating a system of water supply will find it greatly to their advantage to consult us for further information. All work guaranteed. Send for prices and quotations.
